Oral Assignment #1

“Explain That Graph!”

5 points

“Your assignment, should you choose to accept it”¹, is to consider a particular image and describe what you think are the most important aspects with respect to our changing world. You may consult with your fellow agents and identify your image via the “information porthole” <http://www.aos.wisc.edu/~aos171/hw171.html>. It may prove to be advantageous to coordinate with your fellow agents via “email” regarding which part each person will present. Please report your findings orally on Tuesday, February 6.

Your team will have up to three minutes to explain your graph. You could organize it however you think best. One possibility is to assign one person to introduce the image, a couple to describe particular details, and someone to summarize or add a final comment.
